

Imagination- I embrace my visualization and imagination to create new possibilities in all areas of my life, to be the best person and the best “Christ I can be.”

June is here, many are dreaming of a real vacation time as the country is easing off “pandemic mode”. Kids are out of school, most have practiced imagining, constructing what they want to do; seeing people again, playing, sleeping in, family vacation, or their first work experience. Imagination is number 6 of our twelve powers it is our power of Conception, Vision, and Envision based on our senses, feelings, thoughts and beliefs.

Conception: Any constructed idea that one can conceive comes from the One Source. We are equally able to imagine the very best as the worst. The more we practice imagining the best, this innate ability to do so becomes easier. We can hold a vision of a friend’s wholeness in their entire being during an illness. We can turn around a nagging imagery of a car breakdown on a long trip by visioning that the trip will be safe.

Vision: One can use the visioning power of imagination to dream of the perfect car, job, new house, seeing all “in our minds eye” what has not happened yet.. It is Seeing yourself as if...you already have the perfect car, or job. It gives you a chance to check things out or trying on that new job to see how it fits. The negative side, imagination is what powers worry. Parents use imagination to worry about what can happen to their children.

Embodiment: Embodiment or being a living expression of qualities needed for the idea to become a reality is the counterpart to manifestation. Jesus Christ did this, often being described as “the Incarnate Word”. “The Word became flesh.” (John 1:14). Imagination is possibly the absolute greatest tool for us to accept and claim our Divine Identity. The future we have been envisioning demands one thing of us: that we be that person who can live into that vision.

We can now vision the high vibrations of Peace & Love, going into the collective consciousness to raise the vibrations of fears to be ideas and transformation in to a Greater Future.
